HOW HE CHANGED THE BETTING. Col. Swords Tells How He Astonished the New Yorkers.

A Cincinnati special to the New York Times says: Col. W. L. Swords, sergeant-at-arms of the last republican convention, and later with the national executive committee in New York, was here today and told the following interesting story:

"It was one of my duties," said the colonel, "to walk about and take in the various hotels and pool rooms every evening to hear how the talk was going, and, of course, the betting. I soon became appalled, and saw that something must be done to turn the tide of the betting or we were gone. Two to one on Cleveland everywhere."

"I finally organized a syndicate with $200, "I finally organized a syndicate with $200, 000, the sole object being to change the betting. Gain was not considered. Well, I walked into the Hoffman house one night 'loaded for bear.' I went into Stokes' gorgeous place. There it was all going for Cleveland. I backed up against the bar and took a tenthousand dollar bill from my nocket and ten-thousand-dollar bill from my pocket and flourished it high as I could reach and shook it, while I velled at the top of my voice, 'Ten thousand dollars that Gen, Harrison is the next President of the United States! Ten thousand dollars on Harrison!' Men turned and looked. Then they came at me. I sup-pose they thought I was bluffing. Anyway, the proprietors wouldn't have it, and I was put out of the hotel, not rudely, but gently led by the arm. But I was put out.

"But the next night I went in again and they knew me. I repeated my offer. They knew better than to put me out this time. They had learned that I meant business. Well, I put in six $19,000 bets and one $5,000 bet in this way. Betting men began to pause. They knew where I was from and they reasoned as to my faith and began to come to the conclusion that I knew something that they didn't. But the night I drew $50,000 on 'em I never will forget. The republicans cheered and cheered and the crowds surged and there was a good deal of bluffing, but the $50,000 wasn't taken, and from that time on the tide of betting was our way. Old betting men, keen, shrewd fellows, began to hedge, and, of course, they voted as they hedged and the day was ours. We collected every cent of our winnings." six $10,000 bets and one $5,000 bet in this way. every cent of our winnings."

WITH A CAPITAL OF $100,000,000. Talk of an American Syndicate to Fight the British Brewery Buyers.

A Milwaukee dispatch says: "An American syndicate will be formed to combat the English syndicate which is attempting to corner the beer-brewing business of the world," said Vice President Merkel of the Kraus-Merkel company. "The brewers of this country cannot afford to permit the English syndicate to drive them out of the business they have built up, and they must organize for protection," he continued. "The matter has been discussed seriously for some time past, but never until now has any practical step toward forming the organization been taken. The St. Louis brewwaukee. Our intention is to visit all the great brewing centers of the country, including Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, New Orleans, Kansas City, New York and other cities where beer is brewed in appreciable quantities and get every prominent brewer into the combine. We do not propose to be undersold by anybody, nor will we attempt to crowd any one else out of the market by cutting prices below a living level. I don't think prices will be at all affected."

house and was supposed by her acquaintances to have gone home to Paterson, N.J., to spend the school vacation. This supposition caused delay in making her disappearance known, and her parents later made inquiries privately and refrained from notifying the police, on account of a desire to avoid publicity. Detectives are now, however, at work on the case. Miss Wagner was tall and handsome and a fine musician. Her father is agent of the United States express company at Faterson. The young lady was devoted to study and had few male acquaintances. There is no clue to the reason for her disappearance, nor to her present whereabouts.

Mr. Bayard Will Not Run. A New York Herald special from Wilmington Del., says for some time past it has been cur-rently rumored that ex-Secretary of State Bayard would be the candidate of the democratic party at next year's gubernatorial contest, but as yet that gentleman's views in retest, but as yet that gentleman's views in regard to the matter have not been expressed. Yesterday I learned in conversation with a close friend of Mr. Bayard that when officially approached he will positively decline the nomination and exert his influence in behalf of ex-Congressman Williams of Kent county, which will go a great way toward the selection of the latter. Mr. Bayard's action will be a great disappointment to his many friends, who had confidence that his election was a foregone conclusion.

ON THE CO-OPERATIVE PLAN. How the Brotherhood of Players Will Run Base Ball Next Year.

THE CLUBS TO POOL THEIR EARNINGS-EACH PLAYER A STOCKHOLDER IN HIS CLUB-REARS RANGING THE SALARIES—HOW GOOD PLAYERS ARE TO BE PAID.

The question whether there will be a national base ball league next year is agitating the base ball public generally, but the question whether Washington will be represented by a first-class teams is one which interests Washington particularly. From present appearances "no" will answer both questions. It looks very much as if the national league will be swallowed up by the brotherhood, and if this comes to pass Washington will be left out in the cold, for it is on the cards for the home club to be transferred to Buffalo. THE SCHEME OF THE BROTHERHOOD, which was outlined in Saturday's STAR, is a great deal further advanced than might be generally supposed from what has been published about it. The preliminary arrangements for the co-operative plan, on which the ball players intend to run base ball next year, so far as the league is concerned, have all been made, and those interested in it, including the best of the talent whose names are now carried on league contracts and a number of capitalists. on league contracts and a number of capitalists in eight different cities, are perfectly satisfied with the outlook. A STAR reporter who set out

ON WHAT THEIR CONFIDENCE IS BASED was informed, in the first place, that grounds have been leased in every city which is to be have been leased in every city which is to be represented by a club, except in Philadelphia. These cities are Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburg and Buffalo. The Washington club will go to Buffalo and the Indianapolis club to Brooklyn. The former club will be strengthened by the addition of Rowe and White, so it is said, and other changes will be made among the different clubs to equalize their playing strength. That part of the scheme, however, is to receive That part of the scheme, however, is to receive attention later on.
THE STAR reporter was also informed (and his informant seemed to be remarkably well posted) that all the players who are wanted in the different clubs have already signed personal contracts for next year with the brotherhood's representative, except the Washington men. It is stated that this was the business which took Capt. Arthur Irwin over to Philadelphia last

Mr. Johnson, the Cleveland man with whom the players sign, is simply the representative of the brotherhood. Johnson is said to be worth $500,000 himself and he belongs to a family of millionaires. He owns several street railroads in Cleveland and is a first-class base ball crank. He is said to be willing to back Cleveland up to any amount required. THE CO-OPERATIVE PLAN.

it is stated, was the result primarily of the unequal salaries of the players. John Ward now gets $4,500 in New York, while Jack Glasscock, as good, if not a superior player, gets but $2,500 in Indianapolis, where he is forced to play by the league. By the brotherhood's plan every player will be an interested party, and the salary lists will be rearranged so that a good player in a small town will be just as well off at the end of the season as a player of equal ability in New York or Boston.

THE DETAILS, To explain, with Glasscock and Ward for examples (although the figures may not be correct), Glasscock's salary will be raised to $3,000 and he will be given $500 worth of stock in the brotherhood association. Ward's salary will be reduced to $3,000 and he will be given a similar amount of stock. The salaries of all players will be decided upon by a committee composed of one representative in each club and the lists will be rearranged without regard to the drawing ability of any particular city, because at the end of the season everything is to be evened up.

will come from capitalists in its particular city, generally those interested in the ball grounds, and the money they may be called upon to put up, within a certain limit, will be represented by that amount of stock in the brother-hood. For instance Mr. Coogan, who will rent the grounds to the New York club, if the club does not make enough to meet running expenses will be downing to the standard of the standard o penses, will go down into his pocket with the expectation of getting the amount advanced and more, too, returned to him at the end of the season. Each club will get half of the gate receipts of every game in which it plays.

AT THE END OF THE SEASON if, after all the running expenses have been paid, salaries of players and officials, rent of grounds, &c., there is any money in the treasury, it will be paid into the brotherhood pool and distributed as dividends to stockholders, or rather the stockholders are to receive their money back first and if anything is left it will be divided among the players according to their standing with the classification list as a basic, so that the best players will get the most basis, so that the best players will get the most

AN OBSTACLE.

An apparent difficulty arises in the matter of releases. A player who signs now might be found wanting next May, and the question of what would become of him might cause some trouble. THE STAR man was informed, how-ever, that the system of signing will be the same as that now in vogue. A player will be paid for the time they serve and will be en-titled to stock dividends for only that time, When a player is released he is on the market

There is no denying the fact that the league magnets realize the peril of the national league crowd any one else out of the market by cutting prices below a living level. I don't think prices will be at all affected."
